Comments/TA Provided:

Director present with 3 staff and 15 children, age range 3 to 5. Children were being transitioned from nap to awake. All staff present in the room and attending to children as they were waking up. Staff is attentive and supportive of children waking up. Gently helping with the transition. Staff is skilled at supporting the needs of the individual child. Awake children children were given books for quiet activities while sleeping children were allowed to finish napping. Routine is gentle and supportive. Children are assisted with putting away their own bedding which helps with life skills. Staff demonstrated a sensitivity to children needing more time and assistance with transitioning to waking up. Great observation, good job ladies meeting the needs of the individual child.
